Employment Separation Certificate

Business Hub

Employers can complete an Employment Separation Certificate online using Business Hub.

Go to servicesaustralia.gov.au/businesshub

When to use this form

Use this form to provide information when requested by a former employee. We use this information to make sure we pay customers the right amount from the correct date.

Important information

This notice is given under either section 196 (if received from Services Australia) or section 199 (if received from a former employee) of the Social Security (Administration) Act 1999 and allows a former employee or Services Australia to obtain this information.

All the information contained in, or attached to the certificate may be released to any person under the Freedom of Information Act 1982. If you want any of this information treated in confidence, please attach a statement indicating which information, and give your reasons. This will be considered if a request is made under the Freedom of Information Act 1982.

Definitions

Long service leave

If the person was paid long service leave and worked full-time, please make sure you have marked the appropriate box against a 5 or 7 day week in question 6.

Average gross weekly wage

This is usually contained in the industrial instrument that applies to that workplace (including the appropriate award, workplace agreement or common law contract). Some workplaces include regular overtime and allowance as part of their average weekly wage.

Employment Termination Payments (ETP)

Only certain payments paid to an employee on termination of employment are ETPs. These payments are taxed differently from other kinds of payments made on termination of employment.

Information for former employees

If you do not have another job to go to and you want to claim a Centrelink payment you need to either:

- go to servicesaustralia.gov.au/recentlyunemployed
- call our employment services line on 132 850
- visit one of our service centres.

Your claim will start the date you submit a completed claim form, including all documents required.

Did you receive a payment for a redundancy, annual leave, long service leave, sick leave or parental leave?

If you did, there may be a waiting period before you can receive an income support payment. To avoid a situation where you have no access to funds and no access to an income support payment, you should contact us to find out how long your waiting period will be before you spend your termination payment.

You may also have a waiting period depending on the amount of liquid assets (for example, money, shares) you have available.

You should contact us as soon as possible once you cease employment.

How to get more Employment Separation Certificates

To get more Employment Separation Certificates, you can:

- go to servicesaustralia.gov.au/forms and print more copies
- photocopy the Employment Separation Certificate on the next pages and make sure you place your stamp on the photocopy.
